

AKTIV!er Betriebsrat
Starkes Team

Relocation of activities or international cooperation?

For good working conditions and professional development at all locations, we need internationally oriented codetermination and an ACTIVE! works council.

Digitalization

The digitalization of work processes can greatly relieve employees - if it is well planned, involves experienced colleagues, and includes strong codetermination. Since our jobs are affected, employees are the true experts.

Self-management or teamwork?

A division of labour helps when it is well organised. Whether it's travel bookings, questions about time recording, or IT disruptions: we want more support through additional assistants and support functions!
